1. [REDACTED] completed one of our most successful ACOs on 7 May -- both in numbers of students in attendance and in variety of guest participants -- and in spite of the occasional obtuseness of our friends from ICG. The FBI representative once again did a very fine job, as did [REDACTED] of DIA. The closed circuit TV was a successful experiment, both technically and substantively. The only weak spot in the innovations introduced by [REDACTED] was the [REDACTED] representative whose presentation was rather pedestrian and whose presence created more protocol problems than it was worth from the training point of view. An average of seventy additional people attended each of these four sessions.

A large vote of thanks is due to [REDACTED] -- both for her suggestions as to methods and timing of publicity for the course, and for handling the registration of 280 additional attendees.

2. I would like to clarify somewhat my comment at Friday's staff meeting about our current CTP class. I believe I used the word "passive." This isn't quite accurate. "Quiet" or "reserved" would perhaps be closer to the mark. On Friday afternoon, during our Foreign Affairs Study Association (Communist front) meeting they clearly demonstrated their non-passive character in an organized attempt to break up the meeting -- complete with posters, filibusters, etc.

25X1A 3. [REDACTED] has coordinated fully with [REDACTED] FE, and Ken 25X1A
25X1A [REDACTED] concerning the administration of the next China Familiarization 25X1A Course, scheduled for 24 May. None of the former procedures or substance will be changed this time. [REDACTED] will sit through the course as a student -- preparatory to taking over the supervision from [REDACTED] 25X1A

25X1A 4. [REDACTED] reported to SIC on 3 May and is attending the CTP course. This seems to be the most expeditious way for him to become thoroughly acquainted with SIC's procedures and capabilities -- and also to begin cranking in contributions and suggestions from his own particular vantage. 25X1A

25X1A 5. [REDACTED] reports [REDACTED] next Sunday for five days of orientation on the NIPA program. He will have an opportunity during that time to meet with his Harvard advisor and develop a program for next fall.

25X1A 6. I received a call last week from [REDACTED] re SIC's activities 25X1A at the [REDACTED] and his staff had been impressed not only with the substance of our presentations, but with teaching techniques, and have therefore asked for assistance or advice in developing better teaching methods within their own faculty. We were requested to "think about" this. Perhaps Dave [REDACTED] could be tapped for some assistance.

25X1A 7. I regret that only [REDACTED] could be made available for the instructor's seminar at NIS. Both [REDACTED] and I could have profited from 25X1A it, but [REDACTED] is involved with the China course and I had commitments which would have forced too many absences.

8. A brief personnel item -- both of [REDACTED] sons will be 25X1A relinquishing their bachelorhood in June. They are both grave disappointments to the old man whose sole word of advice had been -- "Marry money or even better -- borrow it." Love apparently triumphed.

9. External Presentations:

flicts Among Communist Parties"
